Virginia's Manufacturing Interests.

As was stated in the Gazette, a substantial increase in the manufactures of Virginia is indicated in a statistical summary given out yesterday by the Census Bureau for the year ended December 31, 1905.

The census is confined to establishments with a product of $500 or more, thus excluding the neighborhood industries and hand trades, such as building trades, dressmaking, custom millinery, custom sewing and grinding, cobbling and blacksmithing. Including these industries, there were reported at the twelfth census 8,248 establishments, with 72,702 wage-earners and products valued at $132,172,910.

The total in the summary are reduced as nearly as possible to a comparative basis, showing the statistics of the manufacturing industries for the State and four principal cities and for the three principal industries in 1900 and 1905.

It is shown in the summary that in the time intervening between the census of 1900 and the census of 1905 the number of manufacturing establishments in Virginia has not materially increased, there being 3,186 reported in 1900 and 3,187 in 1905. The amount of money invested in these concerns, however, has increased to the extent of 60.3 per cent., or from $92,299,589 in 1900 to $147,989,182 in 1905. The number of salaried officials, clerks, etc., has increased from 3,828, drawing salaries aggregating $3,629,609, to 4,970, with salaries aggregating $4,874,806. The increase is 29.8 per cent. in numbers and 34.3 per cent. in salaries.

The average number of wage-earners in the State has increased from 66,224 in 1900 to 80,256 in 1905, and the wages paid from $20,273,889 to $27,943,058, an increase of 21.2 in the number of wage-earners and 37.8 per cent. in the amount of wages paid.

The cost of materials used has increased 40.9 per cent., or from $59,359,484 to $83,649,149. Miscellaneous expenses have increased from $11,249,908 to $14,403,382.

The value of the products of the State, including custom work and repairing, is estimated at $148,856,525 in 1905, as against $108,644,150 in 1900, an increase of 37 per cent.

The four principal manufacturing cities of the State are shown to be Richmond, Norfolk, Petersburg and Roanoke.

Physician Suspected of Murder.

An arrest was made in Nashville, Tenn., yesterday in connection with the death of Mrs. Rosa Mangrum, who disappeared from Nashville December 14 and whose body was found six weeks later in the Ohio river, near Cairo.

Dr. J. Herman Feist, of Nashville, the dead woman's physician, with whom she is said to have been infatuated and ready to divorce her husband and marry, was arrested by detectives on a warrant charging robbery and murder. The affidavit to the warrant was made by Chester B. Mason, the woman's brother.

Several hundred people gathered about the magistrate's office, where attorneys were agreeing on bond. The woman's brother was removed from the office for fear he might attempt violence on the prisoner, who was later released on $10,000 bond.

The evidence is thought to be largely circumstantial, and neither the officers nor the defendants have anything to say.

The woman was pretty and attractive, about thirty years old, and the wife of a barber. Feist is unmarried, and about thirty five. Several years ago a young woman infatuated with him committed suicide in his office.

Mrs. Mangrum and her husband had had domestic difficulties, and last December Mrs. Mangrum said she would visit relatives in St. Louis. Mrs. Mangrum was the possessor of considerable money in her name.

No one has been found up to this time who saw Mrs. Mangrum leave Nashville. Her trunk, which was checked to St. Louis, was found in the baggage room of a railroad in Chicago, and detectives from that city were at once enlisted to aid the men from St. Louis and the local police.

Mr. Mangrum had been searching for his wife ever since her relatives replied from St. Louis that she had not arrived there, and had about given up, when her body was found floating in the Mississippi river near Cairo. Her clothes were not disturbed; her money and jewelry was still in her possession, but, according to those who saw the body, there were evidences of finger marks about the throat. The body had been in the water for some time.

Dr. Feist is said to have borrowed money from Mangrum, and it is claimed by those interested in his arrest that the doctor was seen with Mrs. Mangrum early in the evening on which she disappeared.

Starving to Death.

Because her stomach was so weakened by useless drugging that she could not eat, Mrs. Mary H. Walters, of St. Clair St., Columbus, O., was literally starving to death. She writes: "My stomach was so weak from useless drugs that I could not eat, and my nerves so wrecked that I could not sleep; and not before I was given up to die was I induced to try Electric Bitters; with the wonderful result that improvement began at once, and a complete cure followed." Best health Tonic on earth. 50c. Guaranteed by E. S. Lead beater & Sons druggists.

Fell From Church Roof.

While a score of persons, mostly fashionably attired women, stood speechless with horror in front of St. Bartholomew's Church, on Madison avenue, New York, yesterday afternoon, Walter Cathie, aged 60 years, struggled for his life as he clung to the gutter high up on the eaves of the church.

For three minutes Cathie squirmed and clutched the gutter, vainly trying to pull himself back to safety. The crowd was hypnotized by horror and could not move to aid the man. It would have been impossible for anyone to get up to the roof in time to pull him back, and no ladder could have been obtained for him. Helplessly the man and women watched him fight for his life.

Cathie went out on the steep, slanting roof alone. He did not use a rope, and evidently counted on the width of the gutter as being safe enough. His first work was to chip away the ice that clogged the leaders, so that the water might run off and he could see where the leaks were. He was chopping with a small hatchet when he slipped on a mound of ice. He was six stories above the pavement. With the coolness that is as much a part of the roofer's trade as it is of the steeplejack, he struck out with his hatchet for a grip. He had fallen on his stomach. The hatchet failed to catch and in a minute he was over the ledge. He grasped the edge of the gutter. He was too stiff and weak, though, to swing himself back, so he swung and called loudly for help. He tried several times to throw himself back by a vaulting motion. At his last trial the copper-lined gutter, corroded and half eaten away, broke, and he came down like a shot, turning head foremost. He struck on his head, which was crushed to a pulp. Death was instantaneous.

Wife Shoots Husband.

Finding her husband drinking in a saloon with another woman at Fort Dodge, Iowa, at 6 o'clock yesterday morning, after an all night's carousal, Mrs. John Keller shot and fatally wounded him, and slightly wounded Ed Jessick. She also tried to kill her husband's companion, but her aim was erratic.

Keller was out all night with the woman who caused the trouble. His wife learned of the fact, and, equipping herself with a revolver, started out on the hunt, determining to have the lives of both of them.

She followed them all night, finally discovering the pair at 6 o'clock yesterday morning drinking together.

With the words: "So there you are," she pulled the 38 caliber Colt's revolver from her muff and opened fire.

Two shots fired at her husband's companion missed, and she darted out of the saloon and escaped. Mrs. Keller then turned the weapon on her husband and shot him in the abdomen. He gave a cry, and as he staggered and fell she shot at the bartender, whom she gave a flesh wound in the arm.

Announcing that her work was done, she laid the revolver on the bar and gave herself up to Policeman Nicholson, who entered at that time. The name of the woman who caused the tragedy is still unknown and she cannot be found.

SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

SATURDAY EVENING, MAR. 17, 1906.

SO FAR from having abated, the republican revolt has swollen since the House passed the two-state bill under the joint pressure of President Roosevelt and Speaker Cannon. In the republican caucus called by the speaker on Thursday on a resolution not to to concur in the Senate amendmens dropping New Mexico and Arizona from the bill there were 127 yeas and 43 nays. Not less than 79 members were absent. In presence of this demonstration it was resolved to send the bill to a conference committee, which may lead to a compromise on Senator Foraker's amendment to allow the people of Arizona to vote separately on the question of juncture with New Mexico as a State. At the same time king caucus was reduced to a "conference" whose decrees were not binding upon the members, in spite of the assertions of Speaker Cannon to the contrary. It appears that the statehood bill has already fallen to the background in the plan of the Speaker. He availed himself of the caucus to deliver a tirade against the Senate which he had already poured by retail into the bosoms of members and newspaper correspondents. The great offense of the Senate appears to consist in disagreement with the Speaker and the President on the two-state bill and other important measures in the exercise of its legislative functions. When he was haranguing the caucus upon the duty of the House to maintain its dignity and to resist the insolent encroachments of the Senate it was evident to the insurgent republicans sitting around the Speaker that his own position as dictator of the legislation of Congress was his chief concern. In the midst of his attack upon the Senate he was told by Representative Steenerson, of Minnesota, that it was hardly fitting to declaim about "the dignity of the House" as a legislative body since it has been stripped of its legislative freedom and reduced to a mere voting machine. But with the bravado of Speaker Cannon and his eagerness to incite a conflict between the House and Senate, the Philadelphia Record says, he is ready enough for a compromise on the basis of the Foraker amendment. This betrayed itself in his assertion that twenty people in Oklahoma are opposed to the juncture with the Indian Territory to one in Arizona who is opposed to union with New Mexico. If such is the case he can have no fears as to the fate of his two-state bill. But the adoption of the amendment will be a distinct triumph of the principles of republican government over the truculent purpose of the President and Speaker to trample upon the political rights of the people of Arizona.

EX-JUDGE ALTON B. PARKER, of New York, last night in an address before the Manufacturers' Club of Charlotte, N. C., urged southern democrats to take the leadership of the party. He gave a number of reasons why such a movement would be inaugurated and among others the ex-judge said:

The people of the South, without variableness or shadow of turning, have been the mainstay of the democratic party for many years, and the time has come when new duties and responsibilities must be undertaken by the democrats of the South. From the earliest days you have sent your best men into public life. They have been at once modest, able, devoted, patriotic and honest. No jail or penitentiary has opened its hospitable doors to admit your senators, representatives or governors, nor have the officers of the law, from detectives to attorney general, been compelled to hale them into the criminal courts. In the face of this record you have not only permitted us of the north to present to you candidates for President and Vice-President, but you have insisted upon our doing so, and have then voted for them, and that, too, when sometimes no other states did so. In 1896 you tried Nebraska, and since that day no old democratic northern State has accredited one of our party to the United States Senate, and in none has there been a friendly Governor. All the democratic training schools of the North—elementary, intermediate and higher—were closed and have remained so. The party paralysis was complete and almost fatal. In 1904, hoping to cure or palliate it, you advised returning again to New York for your candidate, only to meet the worst defeat in our party history. When such conditions confront you, why should you hesitate any longer? Until the democrats of Nebraska and New York and other northern States have brought forth fruits meet for repentance—or at least so long as they are threatening to give themselves and the party over to further destruction—should you not assert yourselves?

LATER dispatches from Pueblo, Col., show that two score lives were lost early yesterday by the collision between two passenger trains near Adobe, Col., on the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad, and more than a score of the victims were incinerated by a fire which destroyed the wrecked coaches. More than a score were injured. A telegraph operator is blamed for the accident. It is alleged that he fell asleep at his post and allowed a train to pass. A warrant has been issued for his arrest. Similar accidents during recent years have been attributed to irresponsible operators, and in some instances it has been shown that the railroad companies were in a measure to blame from the fact that they persisted in allowing irresponsible people to have the fate of life and limb in their hands. It often happens that young and thoughtless persons are entrusted with positions as operators at starvation salaries, and in cases such are often overworked. It is not known what the man responsible for the latest horror will say in extenuation of his carelessness, but in the meantime it would be well while Congress is examining into other affairs of railroad companies to enact laws to prevent companies from employing as operators any but efficient and reponsible men, even if higher salaries are to be paid.

A CONGRESSIONAL committee is engaged in examining the mileage accounts of certain army officers, and some pertinent questions have been propounded in reference to General Leonard Wood's mileage claim. It is suggested that one of his trips around the world was at the expense of the people, and its correctness has been questioned by members of the committee. The general's apologists say they can explain all either by law or precedence. It remains to be seen whether they can do so on any legal basis. Apropos of the above, the fact is recalled that since certain railroad companies have abolished the free pass system Congressmen have become "more settled" and remain in Washington on Sundays instead of leaving the capital city every Saturday for their homes. It is said that on one occasion previous to the lopping off of the deadhead list the Congressional limited train of the Pennsylvania Railroad left Washington crowded with passengers and that the conductor after making his rounds realized that he had collected but three tickets which had been purchased. This train of late transports but few Congressmen.

From Washington.

Washington, March 17.

Railroad rate legislation will be almost the only subject discussed in the Senate next week. Senator Tillman, in charge of the Hepburn bill, has given notice that he will insist upon its consideration every day beginning as soon as the routine morning business has been transacted. Senator McCreary, of Kentucky, will lead off on Monday and Senator Foster, of Louisiana, will speak on Thursday or Friday. Mr. Tillman says that there is a great desire to be heard on this subject and predicts that shortly there will be more speeches than time in which to make them. In the meantime the conference between the republican factions for the purpose of agreeing upon a broad court review amendment to the bill may be brought to a successful issue during the week. There is a strong probability that the republicans will be able to present a united front upon an amendment which will be the product of the united wisdom of the leaders and which will give to the courts full power to review rate making decisions of the Interstate Commerce Commission but will prohibit them from issuing an injunction against the enforcement of that rate for a longer period than 90 days. The Panama canal inquiry will be continued on the question of whether a sea-level or lock canal shall be authorized. The statehood question will have another inning in the House next week, when the bill, as amended by the Senate, will be taken from the Speaker's table so that the House may register its will. This will be on Wednesday and the action of the House will undoubtedly send the measure to a conference with the Senate. Monday will be suspension day, when motions to take up various measures under suspension of the rules will be in order. Tuesday consideration will be resumed of the bill making appropriations for the legislative, executive and judicial branches of the government. This bill may consume the remainder of the week. If the legislative appropriation bill is passed before the end of the week, the postoffice appropriation bill, which has been ready for more than a week but which has not yet been reported, will follow.

President Roosevelt received a call this morning from Dr. Young J. Allen, who for 46 years has been a missionary in China. Dr Allen was accompanied by Bishop C. B. Galloway, of the M. E. Church South; Dr. James Atkins, Sunday school secretary, and Dr. Walter R. Lambuth, missionary secretary of the same church. Congressman John Wesley Gaines introduced them to the President. Dr. Allen and his friends urged the President to use his influence for the further relaxation of Chinese exclusion laws, which they claim are working injustice to great numbers of Chinese and professional men. "As long as all Chinese are treated like coolies," said Dr. Allen, "just so long will the boycott against American goods be kept up by Chinese tradesmen." The churchmen suggested to the President that the strained relations might be relieved if the authorities of the American colleges would extend an invitation to the Chinese government to send a number of young men to the United States every year to be educated. The President said that he thought this a very good plan and said he would take up the matter with some of the university presidents.

On account of the boycott of American goods in southern China, Special Agent Crist, of the Department of Commerce and Labor, believes that the opportunities for American trade in northern China are somewhat improved thereby. He has just returned from several months spent in Japan and northern China, investigating trade conditions, and is very much elated at the prospect for American commerce in the northern provinces. "Americans can beat them all," said he today, "if they but try." He does not except the Japanese. Mr. Crist will devote some time to the preparation of a detailed report on conditions as he found them in the Orient.

Col. William Elliott of Beaufort, S. C., formerly a representative in Congress from that State, has been appointed by Secretary Taft to be a commissioner to mark the graves of Confederate soldiers who died in northern prisons. There has been keen competition for this place on the part of the Confederate veterans.

On the basis of past experience it has been figured at the government printing office that if there are no more appointments made at the big printery the pay rolls will be reduced by $225,000 per annum at the end of this year, and the following year the estimate is a reduction of $340,000. Removal from the service from deaths, resignations and discharges for cause are said to average one a day.

He also introduced a bill admitting hides and sole leather free, making the duty on upper leathers 7½ per centum ad valorem and fixing the duty on boots and shoes at 10 per centum ad valorem and 5 cents a pair. This bill reduces the duty on all other leather objects 70 per centum.

F. N. Everett, cashier of the First National Bank of Freeland, Pa., was arrested at Hazleton last night on the charge of embezzling $56,900 from the institution. William Beckley, a lawyer, of Bloomsburg, was arrested at about the same time on the charge of conspiracy. Both warrants were sworn out by A. Oswald, president of the bank, before United States Commissioner C. F. Hill, of Hazelton, who committed the accused men without bail for a further hearing today when a national bank examiner will be there.

An unknown tramp, who had eaten half of his shirt to keep from starving to death, was rescued from a box car in the freight yards at Cincinnati yesterday afternoon. The car had arrived from the North and was being switched about the yards, when yard men heard a faint pounding on the sides of the car. They found the door tightly bound by a coating of sleet and ice and had difficulty in getting it open. The tramp said he had been four days without anything to eat. He was given food and hot coffee and allowed to depart.

Pillsbury Oratorical Contest.

Minneapolis, Minn, March 17.—Lucille W. Ray, a senior student at the university, won the annual Pillsbury oratorical contest held in the university chapel last night, being given first place in a contest with one other girl and four boy orators. This is the first time in the history of the university that a girl has carried off first honors in the big annual oratorical contest, and to carry off the coveted prize of $100 and the right to represent Minnesota in the Norhe Northern Oratorical League at Chicago in the spring. She will be the first girl to enter that contest and it will probably create something of a furore when the announcement is made to the orators of the other six colleges in the league that they are to contest with a girl.

Oppose Pension for Mrs. Lee.

Captain J. J. Burroughs, past commander of Pickett-Buchanan Camp, Confederate Veterans, of Norfolk, a leading ex-Confederate of that city, in discussing the bill which United States Senator John W. Daniel, of Virginia, proposes to introduce in Congress, for the pensioning of Mrs. Lee, widow of General Fitzhugh Lee, at $100 per month, said yesterday he thought the proposition was wrong and that the bill should not be introduced. Captain Burroughs said:

"We fought for a cause that was right and just and I do not believe in asking such favors from the federal government. We should maintain our self-respect and ask the government for no pensions. I believe in pouring oil on troubled waters and ending all ill feeling from former strife and count myself at all times as a patriotic American citizen, but I cannot approve this bill to pension Mrs. Lee, because I do not believe the request should be made to the government."

Declared Insane.

New York, March 17.—Mrs. Ella Barbara Williams, the English woman, who was recently arrested for annoying the members of J. P. Morgan's firm, has been declared insane by Dr. Gregory, the alienist of Bellevue Hospital, where Mrs. Williams is now confined. Dr. Gregory will apply to the Supreme Court to have Mrs. Williams committed, but friends of the woman say any attempt to commit her will be fought.

DENOUNCED MR. CANNON.

Mr. Shackleford, of Missouri, in the House yesterday denounced Speaker Cannon for his attitude on statehood. Regarding the manner in which Mr. Brooks had got a bill before the House, he said:

"The gentleman was not recognized until he had first surrendered his constitutional rights as a representative of the people and crept into your private room, Mr. Speaker, there to supplicate you to extend to him your grace. No member can submit any matter to a vote of the House until he shall have first sought and found favor in your sight. The constitution contemplates that the Speaker shall be the servant of the House. In defiance of the constitution you have made yourself its master. You have packed every committee so that no bill can be reported withouut your consent. Unless you are willing, no member can move to discharge a committee from the consideration of a bill and take it up in the House. You sit an enthtoned despot, subjecting the rights and destinies of this great people to the dictates of your unabridged will. Who stands today between a progressive, enlightened people and the statehood to which they are entitled? You, sir. Only you. You crack your whip and a majority of this House cowers at your feet. You turn your thumbs down, and the House deals a deathblow to prostrate, bleeding Oklahoma."

Here Mr. Shackleford said he had read in the morning papers that "Uncle Joe" had given it out flat-footed that he would not permit the House to concur in the Senate amendment on the statehood bill, and then proceeded: "What a horrible announcement to be made in a free country!" The confusion in the House throughout Mr. Shackleford's remarks was such that very few members knew what he said, when Mr. Tawney stopped him with an objection.

COURT OF APPEALS.

The proceedings of the Court of Appeals yesterday were as follows:

Attorney S. O. Bland, of Newport News, was taken suddenly ill in the court room while engaged in opening the argument in the case of Mason & Perkins, receivers, against Post, and had to be removed from the room. He subsequently recovered and left for his home.

After General Wood.

Alleged abuses in the matter of army travel pay were discussed by the Senate committee on military affairs yesterday, Gen. Leonard Wood's name figuring prominently in the discussion.

Assistant Secretary of War Oliver was before the committee to explain the different items of the army appropriation bill. When the heavy appropriation for travel was reached, Senator Overman asked concerning certain charges that abuses have grown up in the use of this fund.

"Can you tell the committee," the North Carolina Senator asked, "whether, to illustrate the point at which we are aiming, General Wood drew mileage from the government when he came home from the Philippines to have a surgical operation performed? Did he draw mileage upon his return to the Philippines by the eastern route—in other words, for a round-the-world-trip, on what seems to have been personal business?"

Mr Oliver could not answer, but promised that the facts would be sent to the committee.

It is alleged that a number of instances of improper use of this fund can be produced. Officers have, it is said, been ordered from distant stations to Washington for the purpose of attending weddings of relatives and other social functions at a cost to the government of 7 cents a mile traveled, coming and going.

In the case of General Wood the expense was stated by a member of the House who passed upon the bill to be about $1,100 or $1,200.

The Mine Workers.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 17.—Most of the preliminaries to be settled before the negotiations with the operators begin next week, were finished today by the convention of the United Mine Workers of America. The advance guard of spectators is expected to arrive today and Sunday. There was but one session of the United Mine workers today, the usual afternoon session being abandoned to permit the delegates to take part in the St. Patrick's Day parade, arranged by the local members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians. Many of the delegates at this convention wear pink carnations. This is explained by the fact that Patrick Dolan in a remark recently which is said to have been directed at President John Mitchell, declared that it required more than a Prince Albert coat and a pink carnation to be a labor leader.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 17.—The mine workers' convention this morning voted $5,000 and as much more as necessary to defend the Western miners under arrest charged with the murder of Governor Steunenberg, of Idaho.

Before the final action was taken, President Mitchell said: "I am not going to call the judge in this case a scoundrel, I know him to be one. I do believe organized labor should provide for them the best possible law defense and give the arrested men every chance to prove their themselves innocent. I am not opposed to the motion made, but I would have made the appropriation provisional, upon whether our aid be found necessary. I would not limit it to $5,000. I make this statement because I do not wish Western miners to believe that this convention would not come to their relief."

The scale committee announced: "We united, now hold ourselves in readiness to meet our employers in endeavoring to effect a satisfactory settlement of the wage questions."

Grounded Steamer.

Atlantic City, N. J., March 17.—The Booth line steamer Cearenz, which ran aground on a bar off the New Jersey coast, between the Toms River and Island Beach life saving stations yesterday, while bound from Para, Brazil, for New York, lies in an easy position this morning. She is broadside on the bar heading south, and her hull is intact. The prospects of floating the vessel today are considered good. The wrecking steamer I. J. Merritt stretched three cables from the Cearenz this morning and the Merritt and the wrecking steamer North America will make another effort later in the day to drag the stranded vessel into deep water. Should the attempt fail, a portion of the cargo of rubber, sugar, coffee and nuts will be lightered into three barges, which are nearby, for the purpose. The 23 passengers who were on the Cearenz were landed late yesterday afternoon and proceeded for New York by rail.

Affairs in Russia.

E. Stowe, of Plainville, have been in New York for some days searching for her. Today her fiance, John W. Tyrol, a bookkeeper, in the Scottish Union and National Insurance Company, of Hartford, went to New York to assist in the search for the young woman. Miss Cowles is 28 years old.

He was was walking on a lonely road when he was held up by two men who stripped him of his clothing. Hertz found his way to the home of a neighbor, who provided him with clothing to take him home. It is now believed that the two men who took the clothing were Melvin and Burke, who broke out of the county jail Thursday night. They knew they would be detected if seen in convict suits.

Five hours after the ceremony had been performed the groom deserted his bride, leaving the latter at a hotel. The proprietor of the hotel has sworn out a warrant charging Duvall with defrauding him out of a board bill. The bride says that Duvall was married once before, but he declared that he had secured a divorce. The bride has been sent to her home by the mayor of Oakland.

Excitement at Banks.

Freeland, Pa., March 17.—There was intense excitement about the doors of the closed First National Bank here this morning, when a crowd of anxious depositors gathered. They included the wives of many coal mine workers who had been saving for a possible strike. The only information offered was contained in a notice posted on the window during the night that the bank would remain closed until the bank examiner made an inspection. If the defalcation is found not to exceed the $59,000 confessed to by Cashier F. N. Everett it is claimed that every dollar will be returned to the depositors. The bank is capitalized at $50,000. A run occurred on the Citizens' Bank, in Freeland, this morning, and residents are wild over revelations of last night.

Money for Virginia Soldiers.

Washington, D.C., March 16.—Treasury warrants were issued yesterday for payment of something over $60,000 as extra pay to the Virginia volunteers of the war with Spain for the short time intervening from the time they were assembled by the Governor and their muster into the United States army. About $11,600 was allowed on the claim by the Auditor for the War Department some months ago and on appeal taken by the attorneys for the same some $49,700 more was allowed. This is the first claim settled since the passage of the act of Congress, April 27, 1904, extending the time for the present action of the claim. It has been treated as a leading case with reference to this act, and the settlement of claims of other States has awaited this decision. The comptroller's rulings bear favorably upon the claims of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and several other States. The moneys allowed by the comptroller in their case will be paid to Governor Swanson and will be disbursed to the soldiers by the State authorities. Three officials will make up rolls for the purpose of this distribution, and it is supposed that the work will consume several weeks.

Cat in a Piano.

Rising Sun, Pa., March 16.—When Jacob Houseman's piano began apparently to play itself in his parlor, near Eagle Point, last midnight, Jacob reluctantly got out of bed, reached for his gun, and declared: "Well, if it's ghosts we'll have it out right now." Descending the stairs cautiously on tiptoe he silently opened the parlor door, only to find that the piano, right there before him, kept on playing, without a finger on the keys! His first impluse was to blaze away; but he thought of the cost of the piano, and of the feelings of his aroused family upstairs, and discretion got the better of his valor. He cautiously opened the top of the piano, and out jumped the gladdest cat that was ever released from musical thraldom of the other sort. Puss had evidently "smelled a mouse," and thought she smelled it in the piano. Observing her mistake, she had pranced across the hammers and wires in the most unconventional fashion.

Panic in a Boarding House.

New York, March 17.—The inmates of a theatrical boarding house at 219 and 221 west Forty-third street were made to arise earlier than is their custom when a fire broke out in the house early today. John Dingwall, a newspaper man, discovered that the bed in a room on the fourth floor of the boarding house was aflame. Mr. Dingwall threw the burning bed clothing into the street and had succeeded in extinguishing the fire before the arrival of the fire apparatus. Of course all the pretty young chorus girls were thrown into a state bordering upon panic. They emerged from their rooms into the hallway some partially dressed and others in their "nighties" but were quickly reassured and the excitement endek.

Wedding.

London, March 17.—Rear Admiral Joseph Foster, U. S. N., was married today at St. Georges, in Hanover Square, to Josephine Hunt, a Gravesend schoolmistress. Rear Admiral Foster met the schoolmistress ten years ago, when he paid a visit to Gravesend as a paymaster on a warship. At that time the admiral's wife was living. Later, he became a widower, and he then began to correspond with Miss Hunt and their renewal of the former friendship led to their marriage today. Canon Gedge, the blind rector of Gravesend, performed the wedding ceremony.

The Castellane Divorce Case.

Paris, March 17.—The preliminary hearing in the divorce suit of Countess Anna de Castellane against Count Boni, which was to have taken place before Judge Ditte, today, when the formal effort to reconcile their differences would have been made, was postponed at the last moment, at the request of Boni, who sent word that he is confined to his room by an attack of influenza. No date has been fixed for the hearing.

Married Under Difficulties.

Cumberland, Md., March 17.—Alonzo White and Alice White were married near Horton, W. Va., yesterday, under exciting circumstances. On March 15 the paper charged that irregularities amounting to millions had occurred in the Panama republic's accounting for canal money and demands that there should be an investigation of the matter.

Direct Negotiations.

Algeciras, Spain, March 17.—The announcement was made today that direct negotiations are in progress between Paris and Berlin looking to a settlement of the questions of policing Morocco and establishing a state bank in that country, which have caused the delay in reaching an agreement in the international conference now in session here. The Congress accordingly has taken an adjournment pending the outcome of the negotiations, now in progress. While many pessimistic rumors prevail here, there is good authority for saying that the pending negotiations are proceeding satisfactorily.

Paris, March 17.—The outlook for reaching a satisfactory settlement of the Moroccan question at the Algeciras conference is regarded here as being more hopeful. It is understood that the negotiations begun yesterday between France and Germany have paved the way for an agreement.

Paris, March 17.—The Temps states that Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign minister on March 13, sent instructions to Sir Arthur Nicholson, head of the British mission at Algeciras, to uphold France at the international conference on Moroccan affairs without reserve.

The Temps adds that France will not give way at the conference and Germany must accustom herself to looking the situation in the face. Germany must give up her illusions because if she continues her policy of attempting to force France the latter prefers to allow the conference to drop and maintain the status quo in Morocco.

Railroad Accidents.

St. Patrick's Day.

Fine weather has been a pleasant incident in connection with St. Patrick's Day. Last night was gloomy and threatening, but this morning dawned bright and cheerful with a crisp northwest wind prevailing. There seems to have been a total absence of the customary "men of straw" this year, Alexandria's practical jokers not being in evidence.

The wearing of the green was quiet general today, and many store windows were also decorated with the emerald.

A handsome Irish flag was flying today from the flagstaff on the banking house of Burke and Herbert in honor of St. Patrick's Day.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY EIGHTY YEARS AGO.

The February issue of "Knighthood," edited by Mr. Wm. F. Carne, chronicles in connection with a notice of the grave of Mrs. Elizabeth Robinson, at the Catholic cemetery, the following incident of St. Patrick's Day, 1826. "Mrs. Robinson was a genuine daughter of Erin, of quick wit and determined purpose. Once while her husband carried on business at the Robinson corner, Fairfax and Prince streets, where the Mercantile Loan Company now has its office, the 17th of March came, and some of the brainless hoodlums, whose race is not even yet died out, put a 'Stuffed Paddy' at Mr. Robinson's door before daylight in the morning. When the day came Mrs. Robinson opened the door of her comfortable and well furnished dining room on Prince street, set out a fine table with a snowy cloth and her best cut glass and silverware, and bringing the stuffed figure from the door seated it at the table, which was spread with all the delicacies of the season, solid and liquid. There sat St. Patrick all day. Most of leading merchants and moneyed men of the day passed along, for Prince street was then, as now, a banking street with many solid men moving on its sidewalks. These Mr. Robinson invited to honor St. Patrick by sitting at his table and partaking of the good things which he spread out for his friends. Many were the toasts drank by the solid men of Alexandria to the health of the figure that was their host. The mayor and the presidents of the banks were among his guests, and never has Erin's patron saint been more highly honored in Alexandria. The table sat out until nightfall.

Mrs. Robinson was the mother of three children, John M. Robinson, Wm. Robinson and Elizabeth, who married Charles Murray, a prominent Catholic of those days, who was the father of Mrs. Ellen Warner, who, fifty years ago, was the organist of St. Mary's Church and resided on King street, near St. Asaph, in the house now occupied by Mrs. Caroline Diedel. The old lady's will contains bequests to over twenty ladies of St. Mary's congregation, but her means were less than her desires. They did not miss the bequests and all of them now slumber in the same old cemetery with herself.

Buildings for Geisboro Point.

Building Inspector Ashford, of the District of Columbia, yesterday issued a building permit to J. R. Rose, local representative of the Firth-Sterling Steel Company, of Pittsburg, for the erection of six buildings at Geisboro Point, a short distance north of this city, to cost $150,000. The buildings will be of brick and steel construction, and will, it is thought, cover an area of about two acres. Two of the number will measure 300 by 127 feet, while the other four will be, respectively, 60 by 150, 38 by 80, 35 by 112, and 25 by 66 feet. It is expected the Firth-Sterling Company will begin construction at once. When the plant is completed it will bid for armor plate and shells for the government. Before issuing the permit Building Inspector Ashford required Mr. Rose to guarantee for the company that the smoke law would not in any event be violated. This Mr. Rose did, stating that his company would generate gas for [illegible] and that in cases where coal was [illegible] led they would use hard coal.

Mrs. Carter, mother of Mr. Luther Carter, died at her home, near The Plains, Fauquier county, yesterday. Her remains were brought here for interment.

Ceased to be a Residence.

The residence on the west side of Henry street, between Wolfe and Wilkes, so long occupied by Mrs. Kate Makely, has ceased to be used as a dwelling, and probably never will be again. Mrs. Makely with her family has removed to the residence formerly occupied by the late W. W. Adam, on the south side of Duke street, between Washington and Columbus. As has heretofore been stated in the Gazette, the former residence of Mrs. Makely has been purchased by the Southern Railway Company. It is rumored that the company purposes to enlarge their shops at the depot in this city and will use the site upon which the building stands for new structures. In fact it is reported that bids are now being solicited for the same. Many years ago the late Richard Windsor, of Hayfield, occupied the premises, and older residents remember the time when he kept several deer in the yard.

Launching of the Jamestown.

A number of prominent persons left Washington last night on the steamer Newport News, as guests of the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company for Newport News to witness the launching of the new steamer Jamestown, which took place today. Miss Judith Norment, daughter of the vice president of the company, broke a bottle of champagne over the new steamer and christened her "Jamestown." The Newport News reached her objective point at 11 o'clock this morning. After breakfast the party proceeded in a body to the yards of the Newport News Shipbuilding Company. The launching was without ostentation and quite informal. After the christening, luncheon was served by the shipbuilding company, after which the party left on their return to Washington. The steamer will reach that city tomorrow morning.

Yellow Perch in the Potomac.

In the hatchery of the Bureau of Fisheries, which is located opposite Mount Vernon, are 11,000 captive adult yellow perch, which have been purchased by the bureau, and will be held during the spawning season. The eggs will be fertilized and hatched, and the young fish turned back into the Potomac for the purpose of replenishing the supply. Last year but 7,000 fish were bought for this purpose, and it is estimated that 50,000,000 young fish were put into the stream as a result. This year a proportionately large number is expected. The Bureau of Fisheries improves very materially upon the natural reproduction of fish from the spawn of the mother. In the artificial method of fertilizing the eggs, it is calculated that 98 per cent. are hatched, while the eggs, when left in the stream, hatch but 2 or 3 per cent.

Bishop Gibson's Visitation.

The bishop had three busy days last week. He arrived at Pohick church on Saturday, March 3, met the vestry at the rectory at 2 p. m., when plans for putting the seats, pulpit and chancel into Pohick church were discussed. On Sunday he visited Pohick church, Olivet and Pohick chapel, confirming two young men at the first named place. On Monday he visited Quantico church and confirmed three persons, presented by the Rev. E. Meade. This church has been ministered to by a student from the Seminary for the past five months, and this class was the result of his work.—[Southern Churchman.

Impassable Roads.

Many people living in the rural districts contiguous to Alexandria were unable to come to this city today on account of the condition of the roads. It is said that in some places south of Alexandria the mud is so deep that it is impossible for teams to move. There was in consequence a marked absence of country people in market this morning. The recent rains and snows have brought about these conditions.

Police Court.

There have been but few cases for trial in the Police Court this week. Two minor cases were on the docket this morning. A young man had been charged with assaulting a companion. The complainant failed to appear and the accused was dismissed.

A white man had been picked up in the street drunk by Officer Knight. He was dismissed with an admonition.

Thirty male members of Trinity Church, Georgetown, led by Prof. Wells, will furnish the vocal music on the occasion. An interesting time is anticipated by all who purpose to attend.

The Market.

There was a small supply of country produce in market this morning, and prices were unchanged from those of last Saturday. There was an abundant supply of fresh fish on the benches. Shad and herring were offered at former prices, as were also the other varieties.

Virginia Won Debate.

In the debate between the representatives of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, and the team of the University of Virginia, held at Charlottesville last night, the decision was in favor of Virginia.

The query argued was, "Resolved, That American municipalities should own and operate their own railways."

The speakers for Johns Hopkins were Messrs. Joseph T. Singewald, jr., John M. Holmes, W. Conwell Smith and Ormond W. Hammond, alternate.

At the close of the debate the Hopkins men were tendered a supper by the Virginia students.

Champion Liniment for Rheumatism

Chas. Drake, a mail carrier at Chapinville, Conn., says: "Chamberlain's Pain Balm is the champion of all liniments. The past year I was troubled a great deal with rheumatism in my shoulder. After trying several cures the storekeeper here recommended this remedy and it completely cured me." There is no use of anyone suffering from that painful ailment when this liniment can be obtained for a small sum. One application gives prompt relief and its continued use for a short time will produce a permanent cure. For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Conference Boundary.

A great part of yesterday's session in Pocomoke City, Md., of the Wilmington Methodist Episcopal Conference, Bishop McCabe in the chair, was devoted to routine work of reading reports and electing conference boards.

Rev. Vaughn S. Collins read the record of the joint commission appointed by the Baltimore, Wilmington and Virginia Conferences to consider changes in the boundaries of the Wilmington Conference. The changes comprise a division of Alexandria district of the Virginia Conference by which Wilmington Conference receives Phoebus and Claremont Va., and the Baltimore Conference takes the remainder of Alexandria district. Claremont charge comprises 53 members, with church property valued at $17,000, and no debt. Phoebus also has 53 members, with a church valued at $7,500 and a debt amounting to $200, which is, however, more than offset by a legacy of $500 received during the last few months.

Three Firemen Killed

Three firemen were killed and nine others seriously injured last night at a fire, which destroyed the old Sixth Regiment Armory, at Bridge and West streets, Camden, N. J. The fire started in the boiler room of the armory building, and quickly spread to all parts of the structure. About a dozen firemen were ordered into the burning building with a line of hose, and were making good progress in fighting the flames when they were warned by Fireman Harry Dease that the roof was giving way. Before the men could heed the warning the great expanse of roof fell, burying them under it. A general alarm was sounded, and after a great effort the flames were confined to the armory, which was entirely destroyed. About twenty houses surrounding the armory were scorched. The loss is between $50,000 and $75,000.

The B. & O. R. R.

The report of the Baltimore and Ohio investigating committee of the Maryland Legislature has been completed and will be submitted to the legislature Monday night. It shows that the road has acted very unfairly and in a most ungrateful manner toward the State, which has showered favors upon it from the beginning. It holds that the Baltimore and Ohio has violated its charter and that it has illegally withheld profits which should have been credited to the Washington Branch. Dividends, it finds, have been improperly withheld. The road is charged with deliberately depreciating Washington Branch stock and with buying it in whenever possible. It suggests, however, that the State should sell its holdings if a fair price can be obtained for them, rather than engage in a long litigation.

"Goo-Goo" Eyes.

Because he persisted in standing on the rear platform of a Hoboken car and making eyes at a pretty girl who occupied a seat on the inside, John Eckstadt, of Jersey City, was sentenced by Judge Higgins yesterday to 60 days at hard labor.

"Did you make goo-goo eyes at this girl?" asked the judge.

"I did, and it is nobody's business but my own."

"Sixty days in the county jail, and let this be a lesson to other boys."

"I'm a native of Jersey City, born and bred here. There will be——to pay when I get out, and I'll settle with you," said the prisoner to the justice.

Miss Emma Guyer, a 20-year-old stenographer, was on her way to business when she noticed the "goo-goo" eyes. Her unwelcome admirer became so persistent that she appealed to Henry Lavelle, a passenger, for protection.

Lavelle, a big, sturdy fellow, went out on the platform and told the young fellow what he thought of him. There was a sudden swing, a resounding crash, and the next instant Lavelle was seated on the floor of the car nursing a nose from which the blood was streaming.

Jumping to his feet, he attacked his assailant and there was a lively fight. The conductor stopped the car and called a policeman, who arrested Eckstadt.

Deaths from Ptomaine Poisoning.

As the result of eating freely of canned pork and beans two children of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad C. Friedel, of Baltimore contracted ptomaine poisoning and died within 24 hours of each other. Both children—Joseph, aged four years, and Elizabeth Gertrude, aged two years—were taken sick on Thursday afternoon a few hours after eating a hearty meal. A physician was summoned and discovered symptoms of ptomaine poisoning. The usual antidotes were administered, but the children grew worse. There was a change in the children's condition late Thursday afternoon, and after 6 o'clock the boy's temperature changed for the worse, and, after intense agony, he died shortly after 7 o'clock. The girl suffered throughout the night with convulsions and died at 11:30 o'clock yesterday morning.

It is reported that unless the harassing legislation now pending before the New York legislature, is defeated and the personal attacks on racing officials stopped, race track owners might shut down the tracks hereabouts and ship their racing stables to Europe.

When the State Fixed Hotel Prices.

Before, during and for a time after the Revolutionary war the courts of the commonwealth used to fix the prices of tavern board and liquor, so when the sojourning stranger from afar struck Richmond he could pretty nearly know what "horse feed and breakfast" cost. There was also an assize of bread as well as of drink. The price of bread was regulated by the price of wheat. A fourpenny white loaf, a twopenny white loaf, a fourpenny brick loaf and a fourpenny brown loaf had each to weigh so much, according as they had other ingredients mixed with flour. In those days a "Boston biscuit" costing 1 cent had to weigh six ounces and two drams and so on. The connection between a loaf of bread and sixty pounds of wheat at so much per bushel has grown beyond the grasp of the modern mind. However, in the old time in Virginia the custom of regulating the price, or, rather, the weight, of a loaf of bread by the price of the wheat of which it was made was universal. So far as liquor was concerned, the courts used to fix not only the price of a single drink, a quart or a gallon of the stuff, but also "a gorum of punch."—Richmond Dispatch.

When Friends Are Enemies.

"One of our greatest troubles is to prevent patients from being killed by kindness," said a trained nurse in one of the public hospitals. "On visiting days, when relations or friends are admitted, we have in many cases to exercise extreme vigilance. The amount of improper, even dangerous, food which one ablebodied relative can smuggle in under cover of a satchel or a voluminous cloak is almost incredible.

"Only a few weeks ago I captured and carried away from the bed of a convalescent typhoid case a pasteboard box containing two big green pickles and a piece of exceptionally rich cocoanut cake. It was the boy's mother who brought the dainties, and presumably she did not wish to shorten her son's days in the land.

"This sort of thing is of frequent occurrence in a hospital. It is strangely illustrative of how little the average man or woman understands the delicate mechanism of the stomach and stomachic disease."—New York Press.

The Great Eastern.

The Great Eastern was 680 feet long, 83 feet beam, 28 feet draft when loaded, 23,000 tonnage; paddle engines, 1,000 horsepower nominal; screw engines, 1,700 horsepower nominal. She was commenced to be built at Millwall in the spring of 1854 and was launched after many difficulties on Jan. 30, 1858. The history of the Great Eastern was from the first financially an unfortunate one. She made several voyages to the United States at a great loss to her owners, but in 1865 and 1866 she somewhat redeemed her character by successfully laying the Atlantic cable. Subsequently, owing to her vast size, she was instrumental in laying most of the important cables across the Atlantic, in the Mediterranean, through the Red sea, etc. In 1888 she was sold at auction in Liverpool to be broken up, bringing the sum of $280,720.—London Globe.

The Human Body's Tireless Organs.

Man has within him a stationary engine called his heart, which, with its veins and arteries, constitutes a perfect system of hydraulics, compared with which man's best work is clumsy, intricate and wasteful. The lungs are a working bellows, the most perfect method of sanitary ventilation. The stomach is a working vat of marvelous perfection. The brain is a wondrous condenser, and the skin is a great working evaporator, with reserve automatic appliances, ready for extra work in moments of need. All these are in action at all times, day and night, tireless, unceasing, self winding and repairing, for seventy years or more.

Dramatic Deaths.

What is a dramatic death? Of course the most dramatic death ever recorded was that of Placut, who dropped dead while paying a bill. Then there was the death of Fabius, who was choked by a hair in some milk; that of Louis VI., who met his doom because a pig ran under his horse and caused him to stumble; that of Saufelus, who was poisoned by the albumen in a soft boiled egg, and that of Zeuxis, who died from laughter at sight of a hag he had painted.

Her Feet Too.

"That new salesiady," said the blond at the ribbon counter, "has false hair and teeth."

"Yes," replied the brunette, who condescended to sell handkerchiefs occasionally, "and it seems that's not the only thing. I heard her complaining that she hadn't had a chance to get off her feet all day."

She Works at Home.

Hicks—I understand Mrs. Bias has learned how to keep her husband at home. Wicks—Nonsense! Bias is out with "the boys" nearly every night. Hicks—You misunderstand me. I mean the work she does at home keeps him. She's a dressmaker, you know.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Unavailing Pursuit.

"Don't be so sweeping in your judgments. There's that prominent man I mentioned just now, who I am sure has always pursued an upright life."

"That may be, but he's never caught up with it."—Baltimore American.

Sarcastic.

First Medical Man—My practice has doubled since I came to this town. Second Medical Man—Oh, so you have got another patient?

The absent are like children—helpless to defend themselves.—Reade.

The Breath of Life.

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stephens, of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. Oh, it's grand for throat and lung troubles." Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Cutting a Cameo.

It is said that the stone from which cameos are cut—onyx and sardonyx—is so plentiful on the Uruguay river, in Brazil, that ships often take it away as ballast. Nevertheless perfect pieces of large size are costly, a piece suitable for a large portal costing as much as $75. This stone is preferred for cameos because of its hardness and durability and is suitable for such work owing to the fact that it comes in layers of contrasting color, as black and white, black and cream or red and white. When the cut figure is sunk into the stone instead of being raised the cutting is called an intaglio. The cost of these gems is due to the time and skill required in the work. Formerly a small gem might occupy an artist for a year or more, but with modern appliances the work can be done much more rapidly. Still the ancient work bears the palm for artistic excellence. The cutting is now done by holding the stone against a revolving drill whose soft steel face is covered with diamond dust. No steel is hard enough to cut the stone. The utmost patience and caution and delicate handling are required, as the slightest slip may be fatal to the work.

Curran In the Coffee House.

John Philpot Curran, the famous Irish lawyer, ranks among the wittiest men the Emerald Isle has ever produced. His wit, however, was sometimes turned against himself by the intended victim, the following story, taken from the volume of biographical reminiscences entitled "Mrs. Brookfield and Her Circle," furnishing an amusing example of how Curran was once outdone:

A brisk young widow in some part of Ireland used to preside at the table of a coffeehouse patronized by Curran. Her name was Honor, and one day there was some disputed charge.

Curran slyly winked at the friend who happened to be dining with him and proposed "honor and honesty."

"By all means," added the widow briskly, holding her glass to be filled, "let us drink to Mr. Curran's absent friends."

Daisies Follow Railways.

"Buttercups and daisies follow railroads the world over," said an engineer. "In India, in central Asia, in Brazil, the parallel rails run continually between meadows white and yellow with home flowers. In the construction of all foreign railways American or English engineers have a hand. These men know that good home grass is the best thing for holding together the earth on embankments. Grass is tough and lasting. It strikes root so easily that it practically cements the most flimsy earthworks. So grass seed from home is sown on railway embankments all over the world by the home engineers helping to build them, and thus in the most tropical places, among gorgeous orchids and palms and giant cacti, you will see mile after mile of wholesome, clean home grass, studded with white daisies and yellow buttercups."

Three Tombs at Westminster.

In the east walk of the cloisters at Westminster abbey there are three most interesting graves—those of Thomas Betterton and his wife, better known as Bess Saunderson, and the ever fascinating Mrs. Bracegirdle. Of all the people who lie within these hallowed walls it may safely be said that Betterton has the best claim of all to this privilege. No small measure of praise must be accorded to this gifted actor for the fact that he almost more than any one else was responsible for the resuscitation of the English drama after the stern regime of the Puritans. Mrs. Bracegirdle was either adopted by Betterton or placed under his care, and she very soon took all hearts in London by storm. She achieved her greatest success in acting in Congreve's plays. Her artistic career, however, was a comparatively short one, for Mrs. Bracegirdle retired from the stage in dudgeon when Anne Oldfield first became her dangerous rival. She lived on in honorable retirement and beloved by all, high and low, far and near, until the year 1748, when she was buried here beside her old friends the Bettertons.—London Mail.

Auctioneers In England.

The auctioneers of the United Kingdom cannot claim to belong to a very ancient profession so far as that country is concerned. Though auctions were familiar institutions in ancient Rome, the first in the British islands is said to have been held about 1700, when Elisha Yale, governor of Fort George (Madras), put up for sale his trophies of the east, and, although "auction" was defined in 1678 as "a making a publick sale and selling of goods by outcry," it does not appear to have been recognized then as a British institution. The word "auctioneer" does not occur before the eighteenth century.

A Chicago Alderman Owes His Election to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"I can heartily and conscientiously recommend Chamberlain Cough Remedy for affections of the throat and lungs," says Hon. John Shenick, 220 So. Peoria St., Chicago. "Two years ago during a political campaign, I caught cold after being overheated, which irritated my throat and I was finally compelled to stop, as I could not speak aloud. In my extremity a friend advised me to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I took two doses that afternoon and could not believe my senses when I found the next morning the inflammation had largely subsided. I took several does that day, kept right on talking through the campaign, and I thank this medicine that I won my seat in the Council." This remedy is for sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Quick changes from hot to cold and back again try strong constitutions and cause, among other evils nasal catarrh, a troublesome and offensive disease. Sneezing and snuffling, coughing and difficult breathing, and the drip, drip of the foul discharge into the throat—all are ended by Ely's Cream Balm. This honest and positive remedy contains no cocaine, mercury, nor other harmful ingredient. The worst cases are cured in a short time. All druggists, 50c, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York.

TO KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.

Is the Only Possible Way of Having An Effective Cure.

If you see a woman or a man with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure neither has dandruff to amount to anything. In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they owe it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness, can only be had by killing the germ; and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.
